here's all what you need: a cutter & a ruler, preferably on a cutting mat. you may use scissors alternatively, but do it at your own risk.

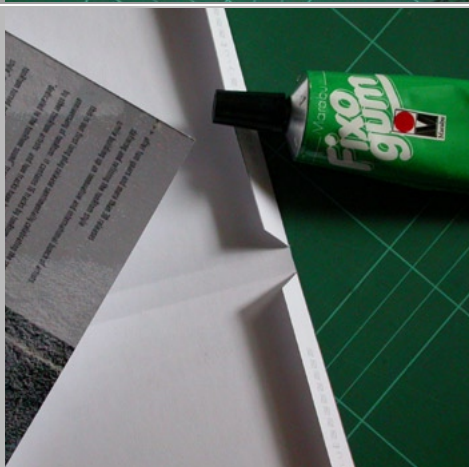

print the outer sleeve files on some heavy weight paper. feel free to use the heaviest paper your printer can handle. see printer manual 4 details.

start with the foldback cover. as result, you should get something like the stuff to the left.

using fixogum or similiar layout glue, you'll reduce the risk of misalignment to the necessary minimum.

you should end up with something like pictured to the right.

you don't have to print your inner sleeves on very heavy paper, but the paper should be of good quality in order to avoid scratches on your valuable tonatom CDs.

...congratulations: you are done!
